CITY OF SANTA FE

Age-Friendly Santa Fe Action Plan

A roadmap for aligning City systems to support independence, connection, and well-being across the lifespan

Andrew West, Project Manager, Age-Friendly Santa Fe
City of Santa Fe, Department of Community Services, Division of Senior Services

Why this work

Santa Fe committed to becoming more age-friendly

5 years

City commitment under Resolution 2024-5. The approved three-year plan now guides implementation.

26%

of residents are 65 or older, compared with 18% nationally. Median age is 46.4, compared with 39.2.

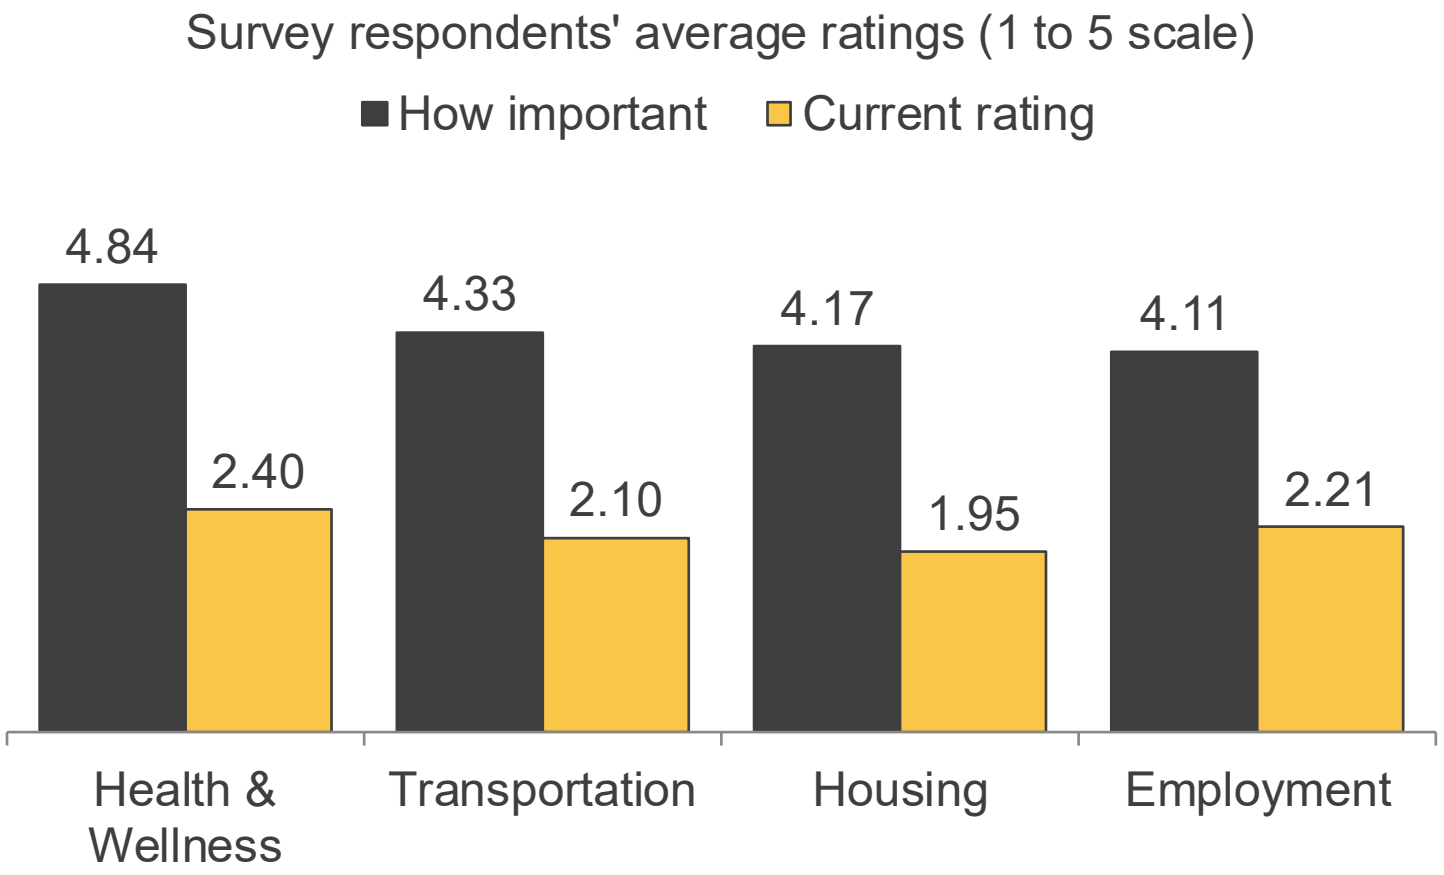

562

survey responses, plus 260 residents in workshops, listening sessions, and community forums.

All materials and activities were available in English and Spanish, with interpretation at in-person events.

Priority areas

Residents told us where to start

Priority area	Priority score
Health & Wellness	2.44
Transportation	2.23
Housing	2.22
Employment	1.90

A priority score is the gap between importance and current rating. A larger number signals a larger gap.

Source: Age-Friendly Santa Fe Action Plan, Appendix B

Six focus areas

A plan for all ages, built on work already underway

Residents often experience services as fragmented, so the plan aligns existing City work.

Transportation
Safe, reliable ways to reach care, services, work, and community life

Housing
Safe, affordable homes through different stages of life

Communication & Information
Services that are easier to find, understand, and navigate

Health & Wellness
Access to care, wellness, and prevention across the lifespan

Social Engagement & Participation
Connection, belonging, and civic life at all ages

Safety & Public Spaces
Streets and public spaces that are safe and accessible

Conversation starter

What's happening in your world?

What initiatives, programs, or services connected to your work address these focus and priority areas?

We're looking to catalog this work more efficiently and find better ways to share data for this project, building on what you already track.

Focus and priority areas

- Transportation
- Housing
- Communication & Information
- Health & Wellness
- Social Engagement & Participation
- Safety & Public Spaces
- Employment

Andrew West, Project Manager, Age-Friendly Santa Fe | ajwest@santafenm.gov